

PLAN REFORMS FOR RUSSIANS

Czar Hears From Committee He Named To Outline Suitable Plan for People.

ORDINARY LAWS MUST BE OBEYED

Ministers Are Not To Exceed Their Powers By Means Of Imperial Ordinances, And Senate Must Be Consulted.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—The committee of ministers appointed by the czar to draw up a reform program to carry into effect the ukase of Dec. 25, it is stated, has made its report to the czar recommending:

1. Wider powers to the senate, enlarging its legislative initiative.
2. Forbidding ministers to exceed their legal powers by imperial ordinances.
3. Independence of the senate as opposed to all the ministers.
4. The creation of the office of president of the senate.
5. The establishment of lower courts connected with the senate.

The committee of ministers, it is stated, distinguishes three fundamental points as bases for defense of the laws:

First—Prevention of violation of laws.

Second—Investigation of the powers and methods of action of those responsible for the administration of the laws.

Third—Responsibility of officials.

As regards the first point, the committee decided that it was necessary to prevent ministers exceeding their legal powers by means of imperial ordinances, and that consequently all exceptions to the ordinary course of laws must be forbidden, and that in exceptional cases, where the emperor has ordered ministers to deliberate concerning changes, the decisions of the committee must first be submitted to the senate.

The committee decided to ask the consent of the emperor for an interpretation of existing laws and other points affecting the methodical carrying out of existing laws.

The committee also agreed upon the necessity of independence of the senate as opposed to all ministers and the internal reorganization of the senate. In order to accelerate the course of justice in administrative affairs, it was decided to be advisable to facilitate access to the senate by persons who have suffered from the arbitrary acts of administrative bodies, and also to afford the right of direct relations between the senate and the emperor and the extension of the senate's existing right of legislative initiative.

The committee decided that it was expedient to establish local courts of justice connected with the senate and the institution in the senate of the post of first president with the right of personal relations with the emperor.

A number of other changes clarifying the rights of plaintiffs under the civil code and in the general way of securing a broader interpretation and construction of the laws were decided by the committee; and all the proposals were sanctioned by the emperor on Jan. 29.

Cabinet Changes.

Emperor Nicholas has signed the appointment of M. Muraviev, minister of justice, to be ambassador of Russia at Rome. M. Muraviev, hitherto the assistant of Minister Muraviev, has been promoted to minister of justice. M. Sweroff, chief Russian press censor, has been removed from his post.

Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky has been granted leave to go abroad for eleven months.

M. Boulgar's appointment as minister of the interior was signed although it has not yet been promulgated. It is believed his appointment will be only temporary.

HORRIBLE SCENE IN A HOUSEHOLD

Mother and Babe Burned to Death—Mother's Dress Caught Fire at Grate.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Walter McCasland and an infant child were burned to death today as a result of the mother's clothing catching fire from an open grate.

MAY REPEAL VERY IMPORTANT LAW

Bankruptcy Act May Be Rescinded by Congress at Present Sitting.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The house committee on judiciary today authorized a favorable report on the Clayton bill to repeal the national bankruptcy act.

MAN CLEARS DEATH MYSTERY

Trevor, Wis., Saloonkeeper Confesses to Part in Killing.

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 3.—The mystery surrounding the killing of John Wren of Manitowoc at Trevor on Christmas day was cleared up, when Nicholas J. Schumacher, proprietor of the tavern at Trevor, made a confession.

Schumacher in his confession stated that Wren had been ordered out of the saloon and when he refused to leave, he had taken hold of him and pushed him out of the door. Later he found Wren lying in the road. He said that he supposed that his skill had been fractured by a fall on the frozen ground.

Schumacher's son is dying and two deputies were appointed to take the prisoner to the bedside of the dying boy.

BANK WITHSTANDS QUIET RUN

Institution at Lancaster, Pa., Keeps Open Late to Pay Depositors.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 3.—A quiet run on the Lancaster Trust company which has been under way ever since the collapse of the City Trust company, ten days ago, culminated in a rush of depositors to withdraw their money. The bank met every demand and kept its doors open until nearly 6 o'clock, several hours longer than usual, closing then with the announcement that the institution would open at the usual time and be ready to pay dollar for dollar.

John Bull (to Johnnie Canada): "Stick close to your pop, me son, for there's a 'orrid goblin in these parts and he's an 'orful happee for small boys." Lord Minto said in a recent speech that the United States was seeking reciprocity with Canada with an object in view.—News Item.

JAPS WIN AND LOSE POSITION

Make Night Attack Upon the Russians and Gain Positions, But Are Driven Back.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—The Japanese made a night attack on the Russian position at Chenailin Pass and outflanked the Russian detachment. Reinforcements compelled the Japanese to retreat with a loss of a hundred killed and wounded. The Russian casualties were fifteen killed and thirty-seven wounded.

STATE NOTES

Fire destroyed the barn of Irving Hand, in the eastern part of Beloit. The loss is $4,000, insurance $1,000. Hans Guttmerson of Kenosha has brought a suit for $10,000 against the United States government for personal injuries while working at Rock Island, Ill., in 1881.

As the result of a fight between John Powers and James Hurley of Green Bay, Hurley is minus a thumb, which was bitten off, and Powers is under arrest.

The final chapter in the history of the Kenosha Daily Gazette was written when Judge Sturges issued an order forcing the company to vacate the building occupied by it at once. A move has been started in Sheboygan to organize a Y. M. C. A., and business men and citizens will aid in the movement. Three hundred young men will be asked to contribute $3 each to start the interest.

Church people at Sheboygan have informed Mayor Born that unless he closes all gambling places in the city at once they will have warrants issued themselves, and have the town closed tight. As a result Mayor Born has ordered the police to close all gambling places.

Business men will organize a merchants and manufacturers' association in Manitowoc, Wis., to locate and secure factory plants. Milwaukee promoters, headed by Joseph Scheuer, who was instrumental in securing the new piano factory, will choose certain lands and will present the city a park of forty acres, worth $10,000, in exchange for which a bond issue of $100,000 is to be made and the money placed in a trust fund to be used to promote the welfare of the city.

POLICEMEN ARE IN CONVENTION

Illinois Association Meets at Joliet in Interest of Civil Service.

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 3.—The Illinois Policemen's association is holding its annual convention in this city. A score or more of delegates, a number of them accompanied by their wives, are in attendance. The program included a business session and a banquet. The sessions are held in the police station.

The association is formed for mutual protection and to further the cause of civil service. D. F. Gahan of Elgin is president and Benjamin Dejaeger of Moline secretary. At the day's session Mr. Gahan was re-elected and it was decided to hold the next meeting in Aurora.

MORE WIVES PUT IN APPEARANCES

Hoch Had by Unofficial Count Thirty Four Wives Thus Far Found.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 3.—Today Chief of Police O'Neill received a telegram from the chief of police of Pasadena, California, stating that Martha Herzfeld Hoch had recognized a photograph of Johann Hoch as the man she married in Chicago in 1886. This makes the unofficial count of Hoch's alleged wives at thirty-four.

WHOLE FAMILY BURN TO DEATH

Antis Household in Johnstown, New York, Swept Away by Fire This Morning.

Johnstown, N. Y., Feb. 3.—Jay Antis and wife and two grown-up daughters perished in a fire which destroyed the Antis home early this morning.

THREE HUNDRED IS THE ESTIMATE

Troubles in Poland Have Resulted in Deaths of Many Hundred Workmen.

Warsaw, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Lodz states that a large body of strikers, while attempting to compel the employees of the lace factory to quit, were fired on by the troops. It is reported the fighting continues this afternoon. The coal miners struck this morning in the districts of Dombrówka and Sosnowice. It is feared this will have a serious effect on the industrial institution. A number of lives were lost as a result of rioting here and it is now estimated three hundred were lost. The unidentified dead will be buried tonight.

In the fighting at Lodz six strikers were killed and forty-eight wounded. The shooting occurred at the Konik factory and the Kolarz lace factory.

NOTHING NEW IN SCHAEFFER CASE

Defense Is Trying to Prove an Alibi for Evans and Browning Today.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 3.—In the Schaeffer hearing today a number of witnesses for the defense were examined, but nothing important was brought out. The defense attempted to establish an alibi for Evans and Browning and to impeach the testimony of "Dude" Cook and Browning's divorced wife, the strongest witness for the state.

J. G. Kimball, general secretary and father of the First Council of Seventy of the Mormon church, has issued a signed statement in Salt Lake City, Utah, denying that he has defended the practice of polygamy.

HEAVY LOSSES BY A BIG FIRE

Six Largest Buildings in East St. Louis Are Burned to the Ground.

St. Louis, Feb. 3.—Six of the largest office and store buildings in East St. Louis were destroyed by fire at five this morning. Several persons were injured, none seriously. The losses to the Josephine building was a hundred thousand dollars and the Walsh and Zeigler buildings fifty thousand each. The other losses are ten thousand.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The Missouri supreme court, en banc, yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court, which convicted William Randolph of the murder of Detective Schumacher and sentenced him to be hanged on March 17.

Joseph S. Jordan, accused of having given money to State Senators French, Bunkers, Wright and Emmons of the California legislature for the purpose of influencing legislation, has been released on $9,000 bail in Sacramento.

The Indiana state senate passed a bill at Indianapolis yesterday providing that remonstrances against the issuance of liquor licenses when signed by a majority of the voters of a ward or township shall apply against applicants for two years.

The fourteenth ballot for United States senator to succeed Francis M. Cockrell taken in Jefferson City, Mo., yesterday resulted in no choice. The vote was: Cockrell, 80; Niedringhaus, 74; Kerens, 12; Pettijohn, 2; Finkelnburg, 1; Kleinschmidt, 1.

Two severe earthquake shocks were felt at Andijan, province of Ferghana, central Asia.

GENERAL MILES TELLS HISTORY

Describes The Capture of Jefferson Davis And Why He Was So Treated.

MAY RESIGN HIS PRESENT PLACE

Order From Assistant Secretary Of War Dana Was To Guard Noted Prisoner Against Any Chance To Escape.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Doston, Mass., Feb. 3.—If the Hull amendment to the Dick bill becomes a law, Massachusetts is extremely likely to lose Gen. Nelson A. Miles from the post of inspector general on the staff of Gov. Douglas.

Gen. Miles allowed the impression to be definitely given that he would not remain if one-fourth of his salary is cut from his full pay, as allowed by the Dick bill if passed.

"Men have worked and served their country for nothing," said Gen. Miles, "but that was in times of emergency. I never heard of any one doing this in times of peace."

Blow to Militia.

"I can draw three-quarters pay and do nothing or may be in any business that I please. Now, all the government pays me is one-quarter of my pay for work that is laid out both by the apparent needs of the state militia and by orders from the national war department. Even if the measure before congress does not affect me in the least, its passing will be a severe blow to the militia arms of several states."

"The object is to bring up this great militia arm, the backbone of our national defense, to an efficiency equal to that of the regular army. To do this it is necessary to detail men who have been the topmost ranks of the regulars. Men retired as majors for ill-health or for whatever cause, lack the experience of men who served through three wars, the first of which was one which gave us our actual military experience."

Questioned as to whether he would retain the post now held in the event of the Hull amendment passing Gen. Miles said he had not made up his mind. He said he had duties to his family and did not feel that either patriotism or good sense called him to leave his work involving practically all his time for absolutely nothing.

"It is possible all the work I have laid out may be accomplished before July 1," he said, "the time when the amendment goes into effect."

Order to Manacle Davis.

In regard to manacled Jefferson Davis, Gen. Miles hereby is authorized and directed to place manacles and fetters upon the hands and feet of Jefferson C. Davis and Clement C. Clay whenever he may deem it advisable in order to render their imprisonment more secure. By order of secretary of war.

"C. A. DANA, Assistant Secretary of War."

Gen. Miles also allowed to be copied statements from various other papers showing that President Johnson's proclamation declared Lincoln's murder "incited, concocted and procured by and between Jefferson Davis."

Other Statements in Case.

Other statements said that "at the time Davis was manacled it was expected he would be put on trial for complicity in the assassination; that Assistant Secretary of War Dana himself went to Fortress Monroe by direction of the secretary of war to take every precaution against the escape of Davis, that the anklets were put on only during a period while wooden doors were being removed from his room and grand doors substituted; that Davis, who was neither weak nor sick, but strong and agile, knocked down one powerful man, and when the anklets were put on it took four men to hold him; and finally, according to the letters of Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Clay, they not only made no complaints against the treatment of Davis and Clay, but thanked Gen. Miles for his kindness and courtesy."

DRAWBACK UPON CANADAIN WHEAT IS DECIDED UPON

Duties May Be Returned When Exported As Flour With American Cereals.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A drawback upon Canadian wheat imported to be mixed with American wheat and then manufactured into flour for export can be paid by the treasury department. This important decision was rendered by the attorney general. The only question involved was whether a drawback could be paid on the exportation of articles produced in part from imported material when the amount of the imported material contained in the finished product cannot be measured by the eye. Attorney General Olney held that the amount must appear to the eye, but later Attorney General Griggs decided that when the amount of imported material was ascertainable in any other way the drawback could be allowed. Attorney General Moody authorized the payment of a drawback to be based upon the account books of the millers.

Benefit to All Concerned. "I think the drawback will be a good thing for our people," said Secretary Shaw. "I am confident the results will be beneficial not only to our millers and our working people but also to our farmers. Our last wheat crop was short. The quality of the grain was damaged by rust. The mixing of Canadian wheat will improve the quality of the flour, and the drawback will enable our millers to keep their mills going. Our millers will also be enabled to supply the foreign demand and keep their foreign markets. We will have to use Canadian wheat this year to retain these foreign markets, and our farmers should raise no objection, because they will benefit with bountiful wheat crops next season."

TO SAFEGUARD CORN SHREDDER

BILL IS FAVORABLY REPORTED BY SENATE COMMITTEE.

REDRESS FOR 'THE WIVES'

Whose Husbands' Affections Have Been Alienated Will Be Made Possible by Morton's Measure.

(Special Correspondence.)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 3.—First steps to regulate and safeguard the decently corn shredder that has ruined hundreds of farmers in Wisconsin and the northwest were taken today in the introduction of a bill to prohibit the sale or operation of any such machine unless it be built so that the operator stands at least six feet away from the snapping rollers or knives and is provided at all times with a trip so as to instantly stop the rollers and knives in case he is caught in the mechanism. Penalty of fine of $50 or $500 or six months imprisonment provided for violation.

The senate committee on judiciary yesterday afternoon considered and decided to report this morning in favor of passage, with some minor amendments. Senator Morton's measure, No. 18, to give to married women the right to bring suit and recover damages for alienation of her husband's affections, loss of services and companionship.

The bill, if it becomes a law, which seems reasonably certain, will elevate women to equality with men in respect to the right to secure redress in the courts for such damages. Heretofore the old common law principle prevailed in Wisconsin, according to which the identity of a married woman is merged into that of her husband and she could not bring suit and recover damages for alienation of affections of her husband, loss of services and companionship of a similar nature. In this state women have brought such suits but the supreme court has reversed the findings of the trial courts whenever the woman has been allowed to maintain her action. The ground taken by the supreme court has been that the common law must govern, to the exclusion of these injured women from the courts, unless the legislature by specific enactment provided otherwise. Within the past year two such suits came to the supreme court. A wife in Milwaukee secured a judgment for damages against her husband-in-law, for alienation of the husband's affections, and upon the mother-in-law appealing the supreme court reversed the decision of the Milwaukee court, declaring that the legislature had been challenged to act in this matter years before and had not done so, therefore it must be considered that the common law rule suited the legislature and must prevail. Cases are more and more frequent in which husbands are and recent heavy damages for loss of affections, services and companionship of their wives, when estranged by third parties or when the ground for action arises out of personal injuries, as in railroad accidents or by reason of defective walks or roads, but the wife has not been able to bring suit successfully when she suffers loss in this manner. This measure being enacted on the initiative of Senator Morton provides for a reciprocal legal right in favor of the wife.

The social democratic members of the assembly do not propose to be outwitted by subterfuges to get around the state child labor law. They declare that notwithstanding the fact that some little boys were supposed to be discharged from the employ of the assembly, these little ones are still receiving pay even though they are not in fact on the payroll. The opponents to child labor in the employ of the state declare that bigger boys have been secured for the places from which the law barred the children and that the new boys have had to agree to divide their salary with the little ones before the big fellows would be appointed. The social democrats oppose such an arrangement as an improper scheme for violating the spirit of the law. Some employees of the senate are retained, who are of age less than the limit set by the state laws. "Let the legislature set a good example," say the social democrats, "and refuse to tolerate themselves that for which they have declared to be an offense when done by the people at large."

Yesterday afternoon this matter came before the assembly committee on judiciary and action was taken toward investigating thoroughly whether or not the legislature was violating the laws of the state. A committee of three members was appointed to make such investigation and report. The committee consists of As-semblymen Aldridge, Ledvina and Warner.

That the assessment of the railroad property of the state as announced by the state tax commission last month is out of all proportion to the assessment of the assessment of the general property of the state and that therefore the railroads are taxed far higher than their equitable share was the burden of the representation made before the tax commission sitting as a state board of assessment of railroad property yesterday afternoon. The new law for the ad valorem taxation of the railroads provides that the commission ascertain the value of the general property of the state, also the average rate of taxation on the general property, then ascertain the full value of the railroad property and apply to it the average rate paid by the general property. In the hearing today the tax experts of the railroads argued that the general property of the state was not assessed properly, up to its full value and that the railroad property had been assessed not only at its full value materially, but that the value of the stocks and bonds had been added. They claimed that the value of the general property of the state would not be nearly so high if the property were assessed at its real full value and they further argued that the stock and bond value of railroad property ought not to be added into the assessment any more than it is added into the value of corporations by the municipal and local taxing authorities of the state.
These were the main representations —that the assessment of the general property was not up to full value, resulting in reaching too large a figure as the average rate of general property taxation, and that the assessment of railroad property should be reduced to the same degree of full value assessment as general property and that the stock and bond values of the railroads should be omitted as they are omitted from the taxation of other large corporations.

The leading railroad representatives present at the hearing yesterday were T. A. Polleys of St. Paul, tax commissioner of the Omaha road;
F. P. Crandon of Chicago, tax commissioner of the Northwestern; A. S.
Dudley, tax commissioner of the S.
Paul and the Wisconsin Western systems; W. W. Baldwin of Burlington, Iowa, tax commissioner of the C. & B.
& Q. road. Thomas H. Gill of Milwaukee, attorney for the Wisconsin Central road, was present during a part of the day, but made no address to the commissioners.

In anticipation of action by the present legislature that is expected to provide means for extensive additions to the state charitable, penal and corrective institutions, the state board of control yesterday started on a trip of inspection in Michigan. The state prison at Jackson, Michigan, will be inspected, also the prison at Ionia, and a number of hospitals. The board recognizes the near approach of absolute necessity for more room in the state prison particularly, but also in other institutions, and desires to become posted as to the most modern buildings of this kind. The state of Michigan has recently built one prison and is considered in the front rank of states as to modernity of structure and equipment of prisons.
Messrs. Clark, Conover and Dresser started yesterday and Mr. Kuester-man expects to follow in a day or so, being detained by the death of a relative. There is still a vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of Herman Grothorshorst in order to run for congress against J. W. Babcock in the third district. It was rumored that Mr. Grothorshorst would be reappointed by Governor La Follette in the event of his failure to defeat Congressman Babcock, but this has failed to materialize.

FORMER RESIDENT WAS A CHARACTER

"CIDER" SMITH, WHOSE DEATH OCCURRED IN TOPEKA.

FAMOUS HERE IN EARLY DAYS

Interesting Sketch of His Character and Life From the Topeka, Kansas, Journal.

Concerning I. M. Smith, whose death occurred in Topeka, Kansas, recently and which was announced in the Monday issue of the Gazette, the Topeka Journal gives a most interesting biographical sketch. The greater part of Mr. Smith's early life was spent in Wisconsin and he was familiarly known as "Cider" Smith. The Journal says:

I. M. Smith was born near Utica,
New York, 30 years ago. He came from hardy stock, for his father lived to be 92 years old, his mother 94 and an aunt was 109 years old at the time of her death. He lived at Onondaga, New York, for a time and went from there to Ashland, Wis., in 1840. His brother drove from New York to Wisconsin with the father of David B.
Hill, the Empire state democratic statesman. Smith went to visit them.
He stayed in Wisconsin but a short time and went to Chicago and was in business there. In 1843 Smith returned to Wisconsin. He went from Buffalo to Detroit on the Great Western.

"I was seafish," said Mr. Smith in telling of the voyage. "On the boat I met Zack Chandler, who was afterwards a senator and a cabinet member. Zack had his sea legs on. I didn't. He owned a store in Detroit.
He took me there when we arrived and he soon had me all right again.
William Hale, afterwards attorney general of Wisconsin, was with us."

In 1849 Smith, with Ezra Coming and a man named Speed secured the franchise for a telegraph line in Wisconsin and began building a large line.
The system included Green Bay,
Kenosha, Ashland, Oconomowoc, Janesville, Beloit, and other towns in Wisconsin and northwestern Illinois. The system was a large one, for 167 operators were employed.
Smith's duty was to oversee the entire system. He traveled by wagon from town to town in all kinds of weather, inspecting the line and offices. During that time he passed the now famous Waukesha springs hundreds of times with never a thought that the waters might be valuable.

"Business was shaky in those days," Smith is quoted as saying. "We had
'wild cat' money and 'wild cat' banks and when we sold anything we did not know whether the money would be good the next day or not. I lived at Ashland and my wife was often frightened by the Waukesha Indians. Business was not any too good and Speed and I wanted to sell out to Coming.
He was to come and see us. He came from Ithaca, N. Y., by way of Cincinnati instead of by Detroit because he owed so much money in Detroit that he was afraid to go there. We owed so much for taxes on our lines that we were about to lose them but we made arrangements with the government for them to be sold for taxes and we bought them in for a small sum."

"Speed and I met Coming in Chicago later. He was to bring $5,000 with him to buy us out. We met him and talked till midnight, then he said,
'I'm busted.' We said that was true.
We couldn't hold out. I tried to get the directors of the railroad, now the Milwaukee & St. Paul, to help us in building a line from Milwaukee to Madison, 93 miles. We wanted $2,000 and in return would help the road by carrying their messages. The directors said they would carry their messages on their trains. That is the route George R. Peck is with now.
They wouldn't help us and I got mad and sold out for $2,000 and gave the money to Dan Wilcox, editor of the Quincy, Ill. Whig. I told him I didn't want it. The father of C. G. Shales, superintendent of telegraph on the Santa Fe, afterward bought those telegraph lines."

"Then I sold a farm I had in Wisconsin for $1,000 and with the money started in business at Janesville, Wis.
I sold wagons and had one of the largest business houses in that part of the country. I look notes in payment for wagons and I have a note now for $175 given me by the father of Governor Budd of California that has never been paid. From there I went to Chicago, and bought two lots on Dearborn street for $2,000 and was burned out by the Chicago fire."

William B. Strong, formerly president of the Santa Fe railroad, was a telegrapher on Smith's line and worked in a small office at Beloit, Wisconsin, for a meager salary. The office did not pay and was closed. Strong lost his place.

Smith had been near wealth many times. Coming stuck to his telegraph business after Smith left it and made money during the war. He was rated at being worth $20,000.00. The lots Smith sold on Dearborn street are now worth thousands of dollars.

Smith's grandfather and uncle had a line of vessels years ago plying between the United States and southern ports and they were destroyed by the French. A cousin of Smith's made application before the court of claims in Washington on the strength of that and got $13,000.

"I didn't," said Smith, "and I'll tell you why. While I was in Wisconsin Barthol's cavalry came our way and camped. We had 1,000 cords of wood, they seized and burned most of it.
They took me so long to get that claim allowed at Washington that I decided if I ever had another against the government I wouldn't ever try to collect it but would just give it to Uncle Sam."

So Smith has never been wealthy, but he lived happily on his little farm and made cider and weather forecasts.
They were both good. Good as "Cider" Smith, who was happy with his grandchildren and his weather warnings. Day after day he got the reports of the climatic conditions at various points of vantage over the country from the newspapers and made his forecasts systematically and intelligently.

ELBRIDGE FIFIELD IN HIS 38TH YEAR

Pioneer Resident of Janesville's Celebrated Birthday Anniversary with Friends Yesterday.

Yesterday was the eighty-eighth birthday anniversary of Elbridge G.
Fifield, pioneer resident of Janesville and a man enjoying excellent health and taking a lively interest in all that goes on in the world about him, despite his advanced years. Relatives and a few intimate friends gathered at his home last evening to commemorate the event. Mr. Fifield was born about fifteen miles from Concord, New Hampshire. In May, 1837, he joined a party of eleven members that were starting for the west. The journey was made by stage and boat to Detroit, Mich., and from thence they

ELBRIDGE FIFIELD

proceeded on foot to St. Joseph, a distance of 280 miles. Subsequently Mr.
Fifield and others boarded a slow-going schooner and eventually landed in Chicago, then a city of 8,000 inhabitants. The party reached Milwaukee on the 11th day of June, the same year and Mr. Fifield set out on foot for Bark river, now Hebron, Jefferson county, to notify E. G. Darling, who was building a saw-mill there, of the arrival of his mother in Milwaukee. He at once engaged in the work of driving a four-ox team employed in hauling logs to the mill and it was with the lumber sawed from some of these logs and purchased by Mr.
Janes, that was built the first frame house in the valley above Beloit and the nearest postoffice was in Milwaukee. He came to Janesville in 1846 and opened the first regular lumberyard in the village.

INTERESTING TALK BY MISS MAY PORTER

Was Given Before the Women's Missionary Societies of Congregational Church.

Everyone present at the meeting of the Women's Missionary societies of the Congregational church yesterday afternoon enjoyed the talk given by Miss May Porter of Pekin, China, who related many interesting experiences of her twenty-five years' labors in the missionary field. Miss Porter formerly resided in Rock county and made her home in Beloit.

A cup of coffee, a bit of soup and a plate of Mrs. Austin's Buckwheat cakes were a breakfast fit for a king.

Office of Comptroller of the Currency.

Washington, D. C., January 13, 1905.
WHEREAS, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that
"The Rock County National Bank of Janesville," located in the city of Janesville in the county of Rock and the state of Wisconsin, has complied with all the provisions of the Act of Congress "to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence, and for other purposes," approved July 12, 1882, as amended by the Act, approved April 12, 1902;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas P.
Kane, Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The Rock County National Bank of Janesville," located in the City of Janesville in the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association; namely, until close of business on January 13, 1925.

IN TESTIMONY WHERE-

ST. BLASE DAY OBSERVED AT CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Throats Are Blessed by Reverend Fathers—Seventh Holy Day in 1905.

St. Blase day was observed in both of the Catholic churches, St. Mary's and St. Patrick's, today. Throughout the day the ceremony of blessing the throats was performed and will be also performed this evening. St. Blase day is the seventh holy day in the calendar.

Interesting War Relics.
A Bowdoinham (Me.) farmer possesses some war relics of unusual interest. Among them is an old-fashioned bar-shot of the 1812 war, and a solid shot weighing 150 pounds which was used in the defence of New Orleans in the rebellion.

"INNOCENT MAIDS" AT THE MYERS THEATRE

Fair Sized Audience Was Well Pleased with Entertainment Last Evening.

There was a fairly good sized audience at the theatre last evening to witness the performance of "The Innocent Maids." Those who attended with the expectation of finding many objectionable features were disappointed. There were no ribald songs, no unseemly actions or scenes, and very few improper lines. The Gillman sisters in buck and wing dancing, Paul Frederick's feats on the sack wire, Somers and Noble in comedy dialogue, and the Kaufman brothers in their cake-walk act were all good and the performers were called back several times. The "Red Lion" and "Hotel Ups and Downs" skits were good, the whole performance well staged and the costumes attractive.

BASEBALL MEETING IN CITY OF BELOIT

Janesville Given Until February 20 To Organize Its Stock Company and Post Forfeit.

The Wisconsin State Association of Professional Baseball Clubs was the name given the Powers' league at the meeting in Beloit yesterday. Janesville was given until February 20 to raise the necessary amount to support a baseball team and post its $200 forfeit. Kenosha sent no representative. John Larry of Oshkosh was elected vice-president in place of Peter Brown. T. M. Chivington of Milwaukee was named second vice-president and an honorary member of the board of directors, which is composed of presidents of clubs and state officers. W. J. McGinnis of Green Bay was made permanent treasurer. The seven clubs represented were Oshkosh, Green Bay, Wausau, La Crosse, Janesville, and Beloit, Wis., and Freeport, Ill. President Powers' salary was fixed at $1, 200 for the season and the salary limit of players at $30 a month, exclusive of the manager, who is limited to $150 a month. Umpires are to receive $100 a month and railroad fare.
The schedule committee, composed of local presidents, will meet as soon as the eighth club is decided on and will prepare a schedule to be submitted at the meeting of the association in Oshkosh within a month. The matter of guarantees and division of receipts was left to the same committee to report at Oshkosh.

BUSH FIGHTERS ARE IN DESPAIR

Small Probability of Pulling Off Proposed Go Near Beloit as Scheduled.

Though the sheriff of Winnebago county, Illinois, has threatened to keep close watch and stop all bush fights and the Beloit police have been active the Ulrich-Flaherty go, scheduled to take place in the very near future near Beloit, which a number of Janesville sports are planning to witness, will probably be pulled off in private or near Rockford. The promoters of the fight secretly claim that the fight will surely be given. In regard to this the Rockford Republican says: "Tickets for the Curley-Ulrich-Joe Flaherty fight, which is to be pulled off in secret within the week, are now on sale in all the downtown saloons and the promoters of the event are making plans to pull it off without interference on the part of the authorities. They claim to have everything arranged to have the fight 'under cover' and those on the inside say that the authorities won't know there's anything doing till the fight is over. And they may not know then, say the same ones. Ulrich has trained hard for the fight and Flaherty will come to the ring-side in the best of condition and those sports who have given up their money for the event are pretty certain they will see a mill worth hiking across country for."

PROPOSED ROAD APPEARS LOST

Decision of the Supreme Court Has Apparently Settled the Road's Chances.

All hope of the proposed Milwaukee Southern railway was shattered by the supreme court when a decision was handed down in Madison which prohibits the line from using the border of Mitchell park along the Menomonee valley for right of way and which was to give the road an entrance into Milwaukee. The Milwaukee Southern line which was to come through Beloit via Lake Geneva is now killed beyond hope of resurrection. Without the entrance through Mitchell park the line cannot reach the desired Milwaukee terminus and the project will likely be abandoned. The company sought the condemnation of this property and won a victory in the circuit court where Judge Tarrant decided in its favor. Justice Siebeckler has handed down the decision which reverses the decision of Judge Tarrant and orders that the application for the condemnation of commissioners to condemn property in Mitchell park for the right of way of the railway be dismissed. In the decision it is said that the company was properly incorporated and that the termini were sufficiently designed, but that no authority could be found for taking any portion of land set aside for public use, such as park purposes, for other uses. The decision states that condemnation proceedings can be commenced by corporations without consent of the municipal authorities, but holds that inasmuch as Mitchell park had been once taken for public purposes it could not again be appropriated for any other public purpose.

A bulletin has been issued to all passenger conductors and brakemen on both the Wisconsin and Madison divisions of the road relative to the new Acme vestibule curtain roller.
The bulletins say in substance: Vestibule coach number 219 in use on various trains on both divisions is equipped with an Acme vestibule curtain roller, the object of which device is to prevent the destruction of curtains in case of the train parting.
The curtain can be easily replaced.
This is a new device and the manage-

BUYS GRAVEL PIT SOUTH OF BELOIT

Northwestern Road Will Take Gravel From Deposits Worked Many Years Ago

Thirty acres of fine gravel soil have been purchased by the North-Western railroad adjoining the old pit just south of Beloit, and the company will have twenty crews at work there as soon as the weather will permit, grade gravel which will be hauled hundreds of miles for the ballasting and improving the company's tracks.
The price paid for the ground is not stated but it is thought to have been a very large one as gravel pits are almost as much sought of today as a gold mine. The ground has been proven as test shafts were sunk over the property and the deposit found to be an average of about twenty-eight feet deep. The Beloit pits on the North-Western line were first opened in 1879 and became famous for furnishing filling for the line throughout the northwest. The gravel found there was of perfect quality and was taken out for many years until the quality seemed to fail about three years ago. Torpedo sand rendered the product of little value for ballasting and the pit was almost abandoned. But it was discovered that the sand was but a narrow rift and the test shafts put down showed that the gravel was as good as ever back a short distance and this property has now been acquired by the company and will be developed.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, February 3, 1865.—The number to be raised in Rock County.—We give below the number of men to be furnished by each town in the county on the 31st of December. Any men which have been furnished since that time may be deducted by the various localities putting them in: Avon, 12; Newark, 16; Beloit, town, 11; 1st ward, 21; 2nd ward, 18; 3rd ward, 16; 4th ward, 15; Turtle, 18; Clinton, 27; Bradford, 18; La Prairie, 15; Rock, 21; Plymouth, 19; Spring Valley, 13; Magnolia, 21; Center, 21; Janesville town, 15; 1st ward, 33; 2nd ward, 46; 3rd ward, 7; 4th ward, 50; Harmony, 20; Johnstown, 23; Lima, 22; Milton, 22; Fulton, 20; Porter, 25; Union, 20.

New York Volunteer Institute.—It is probably known to most of our readers that an institute for the education of the children of the soldiers killed in the war, has been established at Suspension Bridge, New York, and an effort is now being made to put the institution on a permanent basis. In aid of this object an engraved likeness of the eminent military chieftains of the army are being offered throughout the country. The pictures in themselves are beautiful and worth all charged for them, while the object contemplated in their sale is most worthy and noble. The canvasser for this district is Mr. E. D. Hastings, whose headquarters are the store of Leavitt & Dearborn.

Commencement of the Public Schools.—The public schools of this city, we are informed by the clerk of the Board of Education, commence this season on Monday morning next.

Wood Wanted.—The Ladies' Aid Society are out of wood at their office in the Jackson & Smith block. Who will bring them a load?

Full.—The third ward succeeded in filling their quota today and is therefore out of the draft.

A PICTURESQUE CHAPEAU

It would be somewhat hard to classify this straw shape as belonging to any special order, except that of the vaguely picturesque. The crown is a low, flat, drum shape, the brim broad and flaring, and quite a dashing character is afforded in the clever folds or white malines wired to shape, with a rakish roll at the side and a marquis point in the front. The hat itself is of a rather coarse brown straw, the brim double-faced, and with a rather deep bandeau in the front and sides to lift the shape off the face. Setting closely to the head at the back, it projects becomingly on front and sides, and, except for the malines, the sole trimming is a huge, fluffy ostrich plume shaded from seal brown through tan into a very pale blue at the tip. This starts at the crown, pierces the brim on the right side, and the pale blue tip curls under and is attached to the bandeau against the hair.

Fencer's Views.

Champion Charles Bothner Says Quick Thinking Is Necessary For Foul Experts.

The fencing season of 1904-05 is proving to be the greatest in point of activity that this country has ever known. The many tournaments held of late in various of the large cities give evidence of the popularity of this graceful, healthful sport has achieved.

The greatest American fencer is Charles Bothner of the New York Athletic Club. He is a brother of George Bothner, the world's champion light-weight wrestler.

Charles Bothner recently won the championship of America, defeating the best fencers and swordsmen of the land. He gives the following advice to fencers:

"Time and judgment are important factors in the matter of fencing as a competitive sport—time from the standpoint of opportunity and judgment in knowing just when to assume offense or defense. While certain rules as to proper form must be adhered to in order to become accomplished in the art, the ideal fencer is the man who intuitively knows just what his opponent is going to do and further improves upon the form which was his objective point during the early stages of his taking up the sport.

"Some fencers so strongly adhere to form and perform in the same style so continually that they unwittingly telegraph every move in such a manner as to make each action patent to their opponents. Lesson, lesson, lesson should be the lot of the beginner. He must learn to think quickly and act almost before he has had time to think. He must fence with every eye he can of greater ability than he knows he possesses and adapt himself to the varieties of form and attack which so many different men have.

"While, as in other sports, fencing should be taken up early in life, so that participation becomes like second nature and every move a matter of course, there is no reason why a man not in the heyday of youth should not become proficient. I know of men in the neighborhood of fifty years of age who can withstand attack and put up an offense which is possibly unknown in other forms of sports. The longer a man is a devotee of the game the more enamored he becomes of its potency as a form of exercise, which calls out plenty of nervous and physical energy and which only serves to stimulate and does not enervate."

Professor Martin Capdevielle, instructor of the Fencers' club of New York and the Apawamis club at Rye, N. Y., one of the most daring fencers for years in Paris, said:

"This art is indeed one form of exercise that makes the blood rich and stirs it in a sluggish man's veins. Persons who sometimes lose sight of its most interesting result, the grace it gives to one who has become expert with the foils, have declared to me many times that while their endurance and general health have increased, the grace which fencing lent was the greatest satisfaction. Awkward men correct their faults in learning to fence. Unless one has some grace one cannot make a successful fencer. Fencing is an art."

Keats' Opinion of Hamlet.

The middle age of Shakespeare was all covered over; his days were not more happy than Hamlet's, who is, perhaps, more like Shakespeare himself in his common everyday life than any other of his characters.—From a Keats Autograph Letter Sold in London.

THE SOCIALISTIC TENDENCY.

Vice-President Vandenberg of the National City Bank, says the Wall Street Journal, has been making a study of socialism in Europe, a movement which he regards of vital importance, because it foreshadows a tendency likely to gain great force in the United States. He thinks that we shall in the next few years hear much of socialism in this country, and he would not be surprised if political forces here had a new alignment with this issue as the dividing line. Mr. Vandenberg's position in the financial world and the intelligent study which he has made of this subject abroad, makes this statement of large significance.

The fact that 500,000 votes were cast at the election last November for socialist candidates for president is significant indeed, but not in itself alarming. The vote for Mr. Debs is only one of many evidences of the spread of socialism in this country. If socialism ever becomes a powerful political force in this country, it will be under different leadership than Mr. Debs, and it will be because the socialistic sentiment, which is now exhibiting itself in various forms in both the republican and democratic parties, shall finally be concentrated upon one definite platform, welded together by an aggressive and able leadership.

We have believed for a long time that socialism was bound to become more and more an issue in this country, an issue which the conservative forces in politics and in business would be obliged to meet, and which they might find it difficult to overthrow.

The best way of combating socialism is to remove those conditions which are favorable to its growth. Competition and socialism represent the two extremes of economic theory and practice. The hope of the socialists is in a complete breakdown of the competitive system, and hence it is that they welcome the growth of monopoly. They believe that the capitalists, who are building up the great corporations, and concentrating the control of the productive and transportation interests of the country into a few hands, thus steadily reducing the area of active competition, are doing the preparatory work for socialism. Let the forces of capital, they say, build up the monopolies, thus overthrowing competition, and then the people will step in, overthrow the monopolies and establish the regime of socialism.

There seems to be no escape from the logic of this statement. Monopoly is only the advance agent of socialism. What, then, should be done to meet this condition? It seems to us as if some of our great industrial and financial leaders are either strangely blind to the signs of the time, or else exaggerate their own strength, trusting in their ability to defeat socialism in any square test that may develop in the future. They are, at any rate, as a class, steadily resisting any movement intended to enlarge the area of competition, to limit the power of the corporation, to extend the scope of publicity, and to bring interstate commerce more and more under reasonable government regulation. These measures are the only ones which appear at this time likely to check the spread of socialism in this country by preventing the further progress of monopoly.

There are only three possible alternatives: First, a further concentration of the control of production and commerce in this country, so as to produce a condition in which competition shall be reduced to a minimum; second, socialism, the seizure of the machinery of production and transportation in the name of the state, the establishment of the collective commonwealth; and third, a system in which capital shall have the liberty to combine in corporations, but shall be subject to a law of publicity, compelled to account for its acts to the people, and held under reasonable government regulation, so that a proper balance shall be preserved between concentration and competition.

WHAT OF THE RAILROADS?

Burlon Hanson, general solicitor for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company, has replied to the governor's message, or that part of it relating to railroads, and the brief has been distributed to members of the legislature and printed in full in the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Mr. Hanson is an able attorney and the arguments advanced are exhaustive and conclusive. He criticizes the governor for not recognizing the fact that railroads are a benefit to the commonwealth, for there is not a line of commendation in his message.

This in itself is enough to condemn the chief executive, because every man knows, who knows anything, that the railroads are not only the advance guard of civilization but the handmaid of progress as well.

Twenty-five years ago, when the two principle railroads of Wisconsin were stretching out across the state of Dakota, with no terminal points, and nothing but blue sky and barren prairie in sight, it required sublime faith in the future, as well as capital and courage to carry on the enterprise.

The cities of Mitchell and Huron had a railroad before they were incorporated and when their population numbered less than 50 and still the roads pushed on to the Missouri river, traversing counties that had not been surveyed and which were practically uninhabited.

What was the result? Immigration flocked in and for ten years it was a struggle with privation and starvation, for the land was hard to subdue and drought cursed it like a nightmare. Fuel and supplies were distributed with a generous hand and hundreds of discouraged and poverty stricken families were given free transportation back to God's country. It has taken 25 years to put some sections of the state on a paying basis so far as the railroads are concerned, and but for their enterprise and faith, that part of the country would be a wilderness today.

These are not foreign corporations, neither are they soulless monopolies; they are the same companies which have done so much for the development of Wisconsin and are still contributing to the prosperity of the state.

There are dozens of towns in the commonwealth that would be hamlets today but for the railroads and every farm has been enhanced threefold in value for the same reason.

It is rank hypocrisy for the governor of the state to ignore these facts. The railroads of Wisconsin are the great feeders of the state and any effort to cripple them is an insult to the people and if successful will result in untold injury.

The legislature is asked to decide whether or not $5,000,000 be expended for a new capital building. If the railroads pay the freight there ought not to be much trouble about raising the money. The governor claims that these corporations have beat the state out of several millions and the governor ought to know.

Some one has said, "There are two kinds of merchants who ought to be advised—those who have all the business they can attend to and those who have not." This covers the ground and is a complete argument.

President Castro, of canal zone fame, has run against a snag in Secretary Hay. The little republic will do well to get in line.

The festive egg is still a luxury and will continue to be while the mercury lags around zero.

The mercury touched 45 below at Redfield, South Dakota, yesterday morning. That beats the record.

If the legislature can arrange to adjourn March first it will relieve the governor of grave responsibility.

There are several good men in the state who aspire to be governor in 1906, but they are a little handicapped by the present incumbent, unless the fight is finished right there will be no vacancy.

There is more friction brewing in the La Follette camp than ever existed in the ranks of the republican party. Let it brew.

The best time to advertise is when you want business and that is all the time. Spasmodic advertising is seldom profitable.

PRESS COMMENT.

Madison Democrat: Tom Lawson is at least educating the public to appreciate the difference between the price and the value of stocks.

Superior Telegram: Young man, when you go courting don't offer to help peel the potatoes. If you do, you will be under suspicion.

Milwaukee Sentinel: New York dukes when making calls now leave cards for their dogs also. This puts Fido and Cholly on a proper footing of social equality.

Kansas City Star: The great danger in the Wisconsin situation is that the state may backslide after La Follette goes to Washington.

Evening Wisconsin: There is some danger that Maxim Gorky's material for a new revolutionary novel may be tied up with him in Siberia for a number of years.

Eau Claire Leader: The Beef Trust has advanced the price of meat. The expense of advertising that there is no beef trust probably made the advance necessary.

Madison Journal: Sousa has taken London by storm with Bedelia. Perhaps he could dispose of the remaining copies of the life of Alton B. Parker over there too.

New York Sun: At last Governor La Follette heard duty yell at him to come to Washington; and he decided that he would allow himself to be forced to take Farmer Quarles' chair.

At the same time there are strong hopes that President Roosevelt will be able to run the government all right until Senator La Follette arrives on the scene to help pull it out of the tight places.

Sheboygan Journal: Whenever a policeman is wanted at Ashland a big red light flashes out, so that it can be seen for a quarter of a mile. Burglars and other offenders see the signal and at once go to headquarters and give themselves up.

La Crosse Chronicle: Hoch, it seems, said "Will you be mine?" on twenty odd occasions, and there was no answer, but the charm was broken when he tried to reach the heart of a substantial German widow in New York by helping her peel potatoes.

La Crosse Leader-Press: The Superior correspondent of the Duluth News-Tribune creates the theory of the Superior normal school with the opinion that La Crosse will not get a normal this year. The Superior normal faculty is entitled to another guess.

El Paso Herald: A London man who confesses to being an expert on dietetics says that physical degeneration is connected with a lack of lime in the food. Is this a preliminary to working off old mortar on the community as a new breakfast food?

Brookhead Register: A law for the redemption of mileage books in this state will probably be passed by this legislature. Under the law the railroad company would be compelled to do away with their system which requires that with each purchase of the mileage book, the book is valueless if not used up during a certain period of time. The state of Maine passed such a law in 1899.

Chicago Record-Herald: Invited in the words of the grand duke—"to present their needs and grievances direct to the sovereign," there will be nothing uncertain about their utterances. And the autocracy will be compelled to heed these utterances and yield to the reasonable demands of the character and intelligence of the nation. No government, however irresponsible it may be in form, can survive moral bankruptcy and universal contempt, and this is what Russian absolutism is threatened with.

Milton Journal: Edgerton, Evansville and Monroe have recently surrendered to the Bell Telephone Co. The local exchanges in these towns have made contracts with the monopoly by which they are connected with the Wisconsin line and therefore have connection with practically the entire United States. While this has some advantages it compels users to pay a higher rate than the Badger company charges and it will probably result in the Bell people getting entire control in those towns with a large increase in the monthly rate. The local exchanges' phones are taken out and Bell phones put in their place for every subscriber.

SCHOOL BOARDS OBJECT TO BILL

Will Attempt to Stop Legislation, Giving Mayor Veto Power in Board Meetings.

H. J. Cunningham, together with many other presidents of school boards from various cities in Wisconsin, will appear before the committee of the assembly on schools within the next few weeks to endeavor to kill the bill which has been referred to this committee giving the mayors of second, third and fourth class cities, whether incorporated or not, the power to veto all legislation in the school board relative to the management of school funds, making the mayor a member of the board ex-officio. This bill was introduced by special request of the committee on legislation of the League of Municipalities, to which the mayors of the cities belong. The reason for the introduction of this bill is to give the mayor power to govern all expenditures of public funds. This the school boards throughout the state consider an injustice, holding that the city executive makes no study of the school question and know little or nothing of the needs of the schools. The mayor also has the power of vetoing the appropriations for school funds and the bill if passed would give him a double check upon the school expenditures. Numerous school boards in Wisconsin have taken action on the matter and have decided to send their presidents to appear before the committee.

JANESVILLE GIRL DIED IN MILWAUKEE

Miss Sophie Weisend, Who Left This City Three Years Ago, Passed Away Yesterday.

Mrs. J. F. Sweeney this morning received a message from Milwaukee conveying the sad tidings of the death in Milwaukee yesterday of Miss Sophie Weisend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weisend, who removed from this city about three years ago. The young lady had many warm friends in Janesville, particularly among those who love music. She possessed exceptional talent in this direction and was regarded by all who knew her as a musician of great promise. Miss Weisend was but twenty-four years of age. The message stated that her death was due to heart failure. Mrs. Sweeney left for Milwaukee today and will play the organ at the funeral services.

CAR OF ORANGES

Disposed of Here Today by Ches-brough, the Orange Man.

Mr. Chesbrough, the orange man of Beloit, disposed of a carload of "Quail Brand" oranges and lemons to the following local merchants here today: Lowell Co., The Fair, John H. Jones, Taylor Bros., C. N. Van Kirk, F. O. Samuels, L. J. Bugge, Dedrick Bros., A. C. Munger, R. H. Pickering & Co., E. R. Winslow, Tarant & Osmond, Skelly & Wilbur, Paul Rudolph, W. W. Woodring, O. D. Bates, E. N. Fredendall, Grubb Produce Co., Baumann Bros., J. B. Smith, H. S. Johnson. This fruit came from the Redlands district of California and is the most delicious stock that has been in Janesville this season. The oranges are of extra size and are juicy and sweet as sugar. Buyers who call for the "Quail Brand" oranges and lemons will secure the choicest variety in the market. The car consisting of about 400 boxes of fruit came through from California direct in eight days, having been shipped on January 25th.

FIVE FREIGHT CARS BURNED IN WRECK AT DOVER THIS MORNING

Second Section of Time-Freight Collides with First—No One Injured.

Trains from and through Beloit to Racine customarily going via Elkhorn this morning passed through Janesville and by way of Milwaukee to their destination, the road being blocked near Dover, a station about eight miles from Burlington, and the Janesville crew going to Davis Junction at 9 o'clock in the evening and returning the next morning, was called to Dover to assist in the work of clearing up the wreck. The accident was a rear-end collision between the second and first sections of the time-freight. The engine of the second section and the caboose of the first were nearly demolished and the wreck happened a mile from any station. Five freight-cars and a portion of the engine were consumed by the flames, which communicated from the firebox of the wrecked locomotive. No one was injured.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

Books are excellent things; it would be high treason to deny that, coming here to open a free library; but a glut of books is just as bad as a surplus of anything else, and there are a great many excellent people in this world who spend all their days in reading and who are of no use to themselves or anybody else.

Prisoner Satisfied with Quarters.

A prisoner recently confined in Washington county, Vermont, soon returned for another term. On being questioned regarding his anxiety to go back, he said: "Well, you see I liked the board, and besides, I got interested in a novel they have at the jail and I wanted to finish it."

TALK OF REVIVING MID-WINTER FAIR

Which Attracted Many Visitors From the Country to Janesville Three Years Ago.

Some talk of reviving the old mid-winter fair, which was a feature of the winter months three years ago, is being indulged in, but there is as yet no well-defined movement in that direction. The fair was held in one of the large halls of the city, and consisted of an exhibition of farm produce, fancy work, samples of culinary skill, and so forth. The prizes were awarded by the merchants of the city. No residents of the city were allowed to compete and in consequence a large number of farmers were attracted to the city, many of them coming several times during the week which the fair was open.

MUST DRILL OR GO TO JAIL NOW

Novel Plan for Making Militia Soldiers To the Chalk Mark, Proposed.

A proposition to incarcerate members of the national guard in jail if they fail to attend drill and have been recorded otherwise was seriously proposed at a conference of the legislative committee of the Wisconsin National Guard Officers' association, meeting in the office of Adjutant General Boardman Wednesday.

The conclusions of the committee are not yet formulated in the shape of bills, but this work is now in progress. The department of the adjutant general will favor, in brief, an appropriation of substantially $150,000 a year, which is an increase of some $15,000 over the $135,000 received now for the support of the guard. Among the purposes for which the additional appropriation is desired is to enable the cavalry to purchase horses, rather than hire them. The custom of hiring horses is objectionable and faulty, say the officers, and the guard will be materially bettered by owning the mounts, and it is said that this will not entail any greater expense in the end than the present system.

FINED FOR THROWING THINGS AT MR. TRIPP

Willie Dulin Appeared in Municipal Court This Morning and Pleaded Guilty to Charge.

On complaint of W. H. Tripp of the town of Janesville, Willie Dulin, a fourteen year old boy appeared in court today to answer to the charge of throwing missiles at the plaintiff. The offense occurred last Saturday when the plaintiff was driving home from Janesville. This had and some others threw at Mr. Tripp a number of objects which he believed to have been stones. All went wide of the mark. Upon returning to the city the next time Mr. Tripp picked up a stone which he was confident was the one hurled at him. It was a boulder about as big as a good sized turnip. The Dulin boy admitted throwing certain missiles but denied that they were stones. On his plea of guilty, Judge Fifield fined the boy $1 and costs, amounting in all to $2.35 and gave him a severe lecture. The fine and costs were paid by the lad's father.

STRUCK ON HEAD BY HEAVY WEIGHT

Ervin Lawrence Painfully Though Not Seriously Injured This Morning.

Ervin Lawrence, engineer at the Janesville Machine company's shops on South River street, was the victim of a painful accident this morning about 10 o'clock. He lifted up the trap-door on the waste chute from the wood-working department, and the weight which balances the door struck the edge of it, slacking the rope connecting the weight and door, and throwing it from the pulley. The weight dropped, striking Mr. Lawrence on the head and felled him to the floor of the boiler room. He was unconscious until assistance was rendered him. The weight cut an ugly scalp wound and tore the flesh of the left ear, both of which wounds bled freely. Mr. Lawrence's injuries are not considered serious.

INDIAN RELICS ARE BECOMING SCARCE

Six or Eight Big Companies Are Fast Cornering the Visible Supply of Arrow-Heads.

Even the visible supply of Indian relics is being cornered by a few big dealers in these days of combination, according to a well-known resident who has a collection. There are about a dozen of these big firms and Ohio, Kentucky, and Wisconsin have been their most fruitful fields in the past. Stone axes and arrow-heads of flint and copper were formerly very plentiful and there were many small private collections in the various places where Indians once made their abodes. The shores of Lake Koshkonong, which have contributed many interesting relics to these collections, no longer yield large returns to the searcher, and other regions have been similarly "cleaned up."

JANESVILLE GYPSIES ARE NOW IN ROCKFORD JAIL

Bert Wheelock and Marvin Perry Fled from Freeport But Were Caught in Beloit.

The male contingent in the gypsy party that moved out of the stone-house on River street a few weeks ago and migrated to the south are now housed in the Rockford jail. Ora Wheelock was captured at Freeport at the time the goods stolen from Porter & Brown of the Forest city and a valuable violin which appears to have been taken from a man by the name of Zainer while he was in a saloon, were discovered, but his brother Bert and Marvin Perry fled. Chief Schiebel captured them in Beloit.

Boats With Glass Bottoms.

The boatmen at the various seaside towns on the Pacific coast have hit upon a novel method of amusing visitors. They have constructed a number of glass-bottom boats which enable passengers to see not only fish, but all kinds of submarine growth in the Pacific Ocean.

Gulls Destroy Herring Fry.

A scientist told the Belfast Natural History Society that there are two million gulls in the United Kingdom, and during the herring season each consumes 200 fry a day. If all the fry reached maturity they would be worth $24,000,000.

REV. POORMAN WAS BURIED FRIDAY

Methodist Pastor Who Died on Monday Had a Long and Useful Career.

(By Rev. J. H. Tippet.)
J. Frank Poorman was transferred from earthly activities to higher service January 30th, at the age of fifty-four years. He was born in Humboldt, Coles county, Illinois. His conversion took place when he was twelve years of age on the porch of his father's log cabin. He graduated from the Wesleyan college at Bloomington, Illinois, in June, 1873. In the same month he married Miss Etta Mary of Janesville, Wisconsin. He soon began his work as a teacher and in his spare moments studied law. During these years of teaching and study, just as he was ready to be admitted to the bar, a conviction seized him; he felt a divine call to preach. He had an ineradicable idea that a man to become a minister of the gospel must have a positive knowledge that he is called of God. This call came unmistakably to him from many sources, and he felt "wme is me if I preach not the gospel."

In the fall of 1878 he entered the Illinois conference and for twenty-one years served in many of the best churches. On account of the illness of Mrs. Poorman's parents he transferred from the Illinois conference to the West Wisconsin conference. As a man he was singularly gentle and transparent. Though quiet and reserved in speech and manner, he flamed with fervor and quenchless zeal in the pulpit. As a pastor he was loved and respected, and as the people came to know him more fully respect came to reverence. His visits from house to house was not talkative or frivolous, nor was he reticent or austere, but a dignified affable gentleman who obviously thought and felt more than he said, but said all that was needful.

J. Frank Poorman was effective as an evangelist, and hundreds owe their religious relations to his ministry. Of the machinery of revivalism he knew little and cared less, but times of refreshing came like showers in the spring and much fruitage followed. Brother Poorman for many weeks was a great sufferer with Bright's disease and his end came after a sudden change for the worse, which caused a shock to the household, but we are sure that Mrs. Poorman and daughter Iva as they looked at the silent form, were conscious of a spiritual influence which directed their thoughts toward a loving Father who doeth all things for the best. The funeral services were held at the residence on Academy street. Those present and taking part were: Revs. T. E. Foss, R. W. Bosworth, E. S. McChesney, R. M. Vaughan, and J. H. Tippet. Interment was made in Shopton.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

In Need of Bedding: City Missionary Mary Kimball says that several appeals for bed-clothing and underwear have recently come from families of the fourth and fifth wards known to be in dire need. Contributions will be welcome.

Play in Broadhead: The second high school basketball team of the high school is to go to Broadhead this evening where it will compete with the first team of the high school of that place.

Lease Rink Building: E. H. Connel and James Connors have signed a three-year lease for the rink building and will shortly have it converted into a theatre for continuous vaudeville performances.

Chimney Fire: The department was called out at 12:03 p. m. today to a chimney fire at the Coleman house on Glen street, near the intersection of Caroline. The fire was put out with the chemical engine. "Another chimney fire across the way demanded their attention immediately thereafter."

For a New Roundhouse: Rumors of a new roundhouse to be built here by the St. Paul road at a cost of several thousand dollars, are abroad on the street today. The local officers say there is nothing definitely decided upon as yet. If built, it is understood that Otto Schieker will have charge of the construction work.

Waiting for Verdict: The attorneys made their closing arguments in the criminal action of the State vs. Louis Cook just before noon today. The jury went out at twelve and was still deliberating at half-past three o'clock. Over a hundred of the spectators of the morning's proceedings lauded the city hall throughout the afternoon, anxious to hear the verdict.

Action Against Tenant: In Justice Reeder's court today is being tried the action brought by J. C. Stanton to recover some $132 from Thomas Christman, tenant, of his farm in the town of La Prairie, for alleged damage to the farm property, failure to sow grass-seed, appropriation of tobacco land, and failure to pay taxes. Don Van Wart of Beloit transacted business here today.

GUARANTEED BY PEOPLE'S DRUG CO.

Hyomei the Only Cure for Catarrh Which Returns Your Money if Not Satisfactory.

It is seldom that a druggist has enough faith in the medicine he sells even when prepared by himself to be willing to refund the money if it does not cure; but Hyomei has cured so many cases of catarrh among the customers of the People's Drug Co., that they offer to refund the money to all who use it and report that they are not satisfied.

Hyomei is the simplest and most convenient remedy for catarrh ever offered to the public. Breached through an inhaler so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, for a few minutes four times a day, it will absolutely kill all the germs of catarrh and cure the disease. Catarrh cannot exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two fold action, killing all the germs in the air passages and lungs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Some of the most prominent men and women of the country have gladly given testimonials to Hyomei. After seeking relief in vain for years this wonderful remedy has cured them of catarrh, and it is no wonder that they want others to know of it.

D. O. Groff, editor of the Nicholasville, Ky., News, writes: "Ever since I was a young man I have been troubled with catarrh, and in later years the disease became unbearable. Hyomei helped me so much that I wish to publicly speak of its merits, so that others afflicted as I have been may be likewise benefited."

If you have catarrh, accept the People's Drug Company's proposition and use Hyomei. The complete outfit of Hyomei costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei.

Women who Force Themselves to Work Women Who Suffer from All Manner of Uterine and Ovarian Troubles, Weak, Nervous, Bloodless, Melancholy Women Find a Positive Cure in

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS.

Every day sees an army of worn out women dragging themselves to work or forcing themselves to attend to their household duties—women whose trouble lies in an overstrain or over-exertion at some time in the past—women who stay in this condition and think themselves beyond repair, because they know nothing of the wonderful power of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to give them back their health, strength and vitality, by their ability to re-supply the lost nerve energy, to build up the system to manufacture good rich blood, and give increased weight by making the digestion strong and vigorous.

Mrs. Ella Smith, of No. 48 Miller St., Newark, N. Y., writes:

"Last summer I was so weak I staggered when I walked. I was very nervous, easily excited, could not rest, night, blood thin, appetite poor, and hands trembled—I was in a low state of health. About this time I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and though everything else had failed, these pills put me on my feet in good health, and that quickly, too. It was not long before I was eating and sleeping well—the nervousness and trembling gone—the blood rich and my strength back. They are a grand medicine and I feel vigorous and strong in every way." 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on every package.

Shows Japan's Rapid Advance.
It was only in 1868 that the emperor repealed the law forbidding Japanese subjects to leave their own country. In 1890 there were 124,000 Japanese living abroad, 15 of whom were in Russia.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia Cured and Appetite Restored.

Mrs. Susie Morton, of 1201 So. 11th St., Birmingham, Ala., writes every woman in the world to read what she knows of our medicine, and this is what she writes us under date of July 19, 1904: "I have improved wonderfully in health since using your Seven Barks and Grape Nuts. The Grape Nuts are the best thing I ever tried. They do not gripe at all, and keep the bowels in good condition. Before using the Seven Barks I was troubled very much with indigestion and dyspepsia, but now I can eat anything, and I am as strong as I ever was in my life. I hardly know how to thank you for the good your medicines have done me. I wish every woman in the world could read what I am now writing and be cured."

We've sold Seven Barks for years and don't know of a better remedy for Indigestion and Dyspepsia. There's this much about it—it's been curing people of the worst forms of stomach troubles for 35 years, and when it ever fails to cure, the person has only to return the bottle (no matter how much or how little has been used) and get their money. It's more than likely that your case requires similar treatment to that of Mrs. Morton. Why not take Seven Barks and get cured? Deposit 50 cents with us, the price of a full-sized bottle, take it as directed, and if not perfectly satisfied with the results, we're here to refund the price.

Think you for one moment we'd risk our reputation on a remedy that hadn't already proven its efficiency?

BADGER DRUG COMPANY.

Opening For a Fuss And What Caused It

A NEW family had moved into the apartment on the first floor. Coincidentally with the arrival of the new tenants a cat with a following of five or six half grown kittens moved in and took possession of an obscure corner in the hallway.

From the statements of parties most interested it appears that these animals began howling at or near 6 o'clock p. m. of the same day and kept it up without any intermission worth mentioning until 11 o'clock, at which hour a tall man wrapped in the folds of a dressing gown and wearing a pair of speaking slippers was seen descending the stairway from the apartments on the second floor.

As he reached the bottom of the stairs a door leading into the apartments on the first floor opened, and a man with a skullcap and an angry countenance emerged.

"I don't know who you are," said the man in the dressing gown, "but my opinion is that you haven't got much humanity about you—if anybody should ride up in front of this building in an automobile and ask you!"

"I don't know who you are either," responded the other man, "but you can't have any worse opinion of me than I have of you—if some man should happen to write you a letter of inquiry about it!"

"Why don't you take those cats in and feed them?"

"Why don't you do it yourself?"

"The idea of half starving a lot of kittens and letting them yowl all night long and disturb everybody in the building!"

"It isn't disturbing you any worse than it's disturbing me. If you want those cats fed you can feed them!"

"I'll show you how I'll feed them!" exclaimed the man in the dressing gown, striding over to the corner, gathering the animals up in his arms, taking them to the front door and depositing the bunch on the porch outside.

"What have you got to say now, sir?" he demanded, turning and facing the new tenant belligerently.

"Nothing, except thank you, sir."

"What? Aren't they your cats?"

"Not at all, I thought they were yours."

"Well, by the great horn! Say, my name's Rogers. What's yours?"

"Glad to know you, Mr. Rogers. My name is Hawkins."—Chicago Tribune.

A Lost Opportunity.

"Nice girl, eh?"

"Oh, yes, she's pretty enough, but she hasn't got much sense. Why, she had a chance to marry me and refused."

Plumber Died Poor.

The man near the rear door of the street car was investigating against plumbers to eager listeners, and he finally clinched his arguments by looking around in a defiant way and saying:

"Did any one of you ever know or hear of a plumber who died a poor man?"

"I know of one case," replied a man who had been reading his newspaper with seeming interest.

"Then let us hear it."

"It was the case of my own father, who was a plumber. He invested $17,000.00 in a steamboat line, and during a hurricane every single craft in the line went to the bottom. He died a year later, and he

ADJT. GEN. BELL HITS MINERS OF COLORADO

Labor Unions Are Denounced by Ex-Gov. Peabody's Military Assistant in a Remarkable Report.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 3.—"Military necessity recognizes no laws, either civil or social," says Adj. Gen. Bell in his biennial report.

The report contains some extraordinary sentiments expressed in an extraordinary collection of words. As a piece of literature it is unique. The following are verbatim quotations:

"As military commander, the authority and dignity of the state of Colorado were at all times upheld and asserted in seeking to ameliorate a condition of dynamite, murder and assassination, under the guise of labor that was intolerable.

"Autocratic in aim, political in its grafts, and speculative in its incorporated trusts, not the union recognized to associate with working improvement in the condition of the honest working people of the state, their wives and families' betterment, but fire-eating socialists and anarchists fanned by an un-American press, the whole outfit will some day cause the lawmakers to both suppress and banish beyond the state line, such action becoming a citizens' necessity by the lawmakers, and necessity for the protection and welfare of the individual who labors for wages, whom individually and collectively I have had the highest respect and regard for as well as for their happiness and prosperity."

IDLENESS CAUSE OF INSANITY

Healthy Graduate Loses Mind by Failing to Employ Mental Powers.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 3.—Aline Lyons, a wealthy graduate of the University of Michigan, has been placed in jail here to await trial for insanity brought on by failure to exercise unusually bright mental powers developed during college. Since 1894, his graduation year, Lyons has lived in the country a life of complete leisure. He won a scholarship at Chicago university in '94, but failed to get into Chicago through a technicality.

Instead of coming back to his home in Paris township, near Ann Arbor, he began mending umbrellas for a living in Chicago. On discovering this his parents brought him home to the farm, where he has been almost completely idle ever since. A few weeks ago he became insane and threatening on a few trivial subjects. After an examination by physicians he was sent here to be held for jury trial.

BACK TAX MEASURE IS PASSED

Wisconsin Senate Amends Law to Permit Suits Against Railroads.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 3.—Railroad opposition to Governor LaFollette's back tax measure failed to develop and the bill passed the senate by a unanimous vote. It previously had passed the assembly. It provides that the state can sue to collect taxes from roads for the last six years instead of two, amending the statute of limitations to that effect. Governor LaFollette has found that railroads have failed to report large items of rebates, repayments to shippers, etc., and that the tax unpaid on this aggregates $1,500,000. To recover this tax the bill is designed.

WOMAN'S SLAYER IS SET FREE

Jury Accepts Story That Tickling Was Cause of Fatal Accident.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 3.—A jury which considered Edward Cooper's story that when Ethel Kelley tickled him as he was putting his revolver in his pocket he spasmodically threw his arm around and accidentally discharged the weapon, killing her instantly, after nineteen hours' deliberation acquitted him because the state had not proved his case beyond a reasonable doubt.

Two Children Are Burned.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Feb. 3.—Two children were burned to death and William McCarlier sustained burns which will prove fatal in a fire which destroyed his home here. The dead are: Gladys McCarlier, 3 years old, and Charles McCarlier, 2 months old.

Senator's Sister Dies.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Susan A. Abel of this city died, aged 75 years. She was a sister of United States Senator Homewood of Indiana and a cousin of ex-Gov. Pierpont of West Virginia.

London Anti-Semitic League.

London, Feb. 3.—The anti-Semitic league is receiving much support. The league repudiates hostility to the Jews on racial or religious grounds, but alleges their influence in finance is injurious to the public interest.

Belgium Miners Join Strike.

Brussels, Feb. 3.—The employees of the Hainaut collieries have joined the ranks of the German coal strikers. Ten thousand are idle. A partial strike has been called in Central Belgium, where 4,000 are out.

Indians' Test of Fast Shooting.

There is a purely Indian exploit which is recognized as a test of fast shooting. In this the "honor" is allowed the archer who can have six arrows in the air at once, and the "high honor" for seven. The Indian record is eight, but not many Indians have made it.—Country Life in America.

United States Internal Commerce.

The value of the articles forming the internal commerce of the United States is estimated at about twenty-two billions of dollars in a single year.
